

FIVE CENTS A DAY

That's the Cost for Feeding
No. 8's Horses.

CONLON'S CASE UP AGAIN

He May Be Reinstated by the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners—Yesterday's Routine Business.

Commissioners Lottig, Bender, Whitney and President Lettitt transacted routine business with a race horse speed yesterday morning. The session was opened by the usual verbal report of Superintendent Eastman. Fire Marshal Lemon also made his usual report.

S. W. Baxter was called before the board and Commissioner Bender questioned him regarding the feed bills at the different engine houses, particularly regarding No. 8 engine house where the cost bill is kept down to a fraction over 5 cents each day per horse, and at other houses it went as high as 11 cents. Mr. Baxter promised to ascertain the exact reason and report.

The board received the following communications: From the Standard Underground Cable company, offering to reduce their bid on conductor cable. Referred to committee on property.

From George Stoll, asking leave of absence from August 21 to 24. To meet on discipline. This communication was received from Superintendent Eastman.

On April 30, 1922, Sergeant John Conlon was reduced to the rank of patrolman for the period of ninety days. That time having expired I would hereby request your honorable body to reappoint him to his former position. All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. H. EASTMAN,
Superintendent of Police.

Commissioner Lottig promptly moved to refer to committee on men and discipline. Carried.

From Superintendent of Fire Alarms Wetlinghouse, stating that on August 10 he had discharged E. W. Griffin, a fireman, for inefficiency and neglect of duty. Referred to committee on men and discipline.

General Accounts Audited.

On report of the committee on finance, the following accounts were allowed:

Leave of Absence Granted.

The committee on property recommended the purchase of sundry articles for police headquarters, such as brooms, pens, pins, etc. Adopted.

The committee on men and discipline reported in favor of appointing George W. Traxler and Patrick Doherty turnkeys. Traxler has been "one of the finest" for eleven years and Doherty has worn the blue for nine years, and both have been faithful and efficient "coppers."

The report was unanimously adopted.

The committee on men and discipline favored granting Lieutenant Hurley, Clerk Fred S. Webster and Operator L. D. Shattuck leave of absence to attend the annual encampment. Hurley will not lose his pay for the time he is gone.

J. B. Johnson was granted leave of absence for one week to attend the R. F. Conclave at Kansas City. "For" Mr. Whitney said, "if J. B. don't go it will bust up the whole business."

The committee to whom was referred the location of fire alarm boxes reported in favor of locating them as follows: Dickinson and Madison avenues, Grandville and Cordelia court, Cherry street and Lake avenue, Godfrey avenue and B street, Jackson and Marion streets, Leonard and Lafayette streets, West Leonard and Scribner streets. The report was adopted and the board adjourned.

The franchise in Lee Wallace's "Life of Benjamin Harrison" is a fine one, guaranteeing of President Harrison's "smile." The book is a good one. Order at once.

DAMAGES FOR INJURIES.

Mrs. Posthumus Gets a Verdict Against William Hudson.

Justice Brown's court business has increased so that he was obliged to hold a session last night in order to dispose of some of his accumulated cases. The case last night was that of Etta Posthumus against William Hudson for trespass on the case. The parties formerly lived in Byron township, but the complainant is now a resident of this city. The complainant charged that the defendant went to her residence on January 27 last and he and her husband engaged in an altercation over a horse trade. She stepped between them and Hudson struck her. The woman was in a delicate condition at the time and the injuries received from the blow nearly produced serious results, medical attendance being necessary. The trial was by jury and it returned a verdict for damages to the complainant for $87.50 and costs. Hudson was convicted last February of assault and battery on Mr. Posthumus and paid a fine of $50.

ARRESTED AT THE RACES.

Cole and Warner Gathered in by the Detectives for Stealing.

Ed Cole and L. W. Warner were arrested at the races yesterday by Detectives Jakeway and Smith and Gask and Barr. Cole was tending bar under the grand stand for Tom Lynch, and he and Warner had a few words to say to each other. Lynch informed the detectives that he had been watching Cole and had caught him taking change from the till and passing it over to Warner, who stood outside the bar. Both men were locked up in jail. Ed Cole gave his residence as 4th and Arbor and his occupation as an accountant. Warner says he is a mechanic and that his home is in Bay City. After Warner had been arrested an old man by the name of Stuart, living in Cascade township, identified him as the man who, a few minutes before, had put his hand into the old man's pocket when he was tightly pressed in the crowd. The prosecutor had a small amount of money when searched.

His Scalp Was Laid Open.

John Stener and John Donahue heard a man crying murder in Leonard's refrigerator factory yesterday afternoon and they hurried to the assistance of the victim. They found Richard Hamilton and Alexander Barski engaged in a fight. Hamilton had struck Barski over the head with a piece of scalding hot fat lung, laying his scalp open for several inches. After Hamilton had knocked him down he repeated his attack with blows across Barski's body. The blood was flowing quite freely down the injured man's face and the two witnesses held the aggressor until the officers arrived and arrested him. The two men are employees at the factory and were settling a personal difficulty.

For Assault and Battery.

Deputy Sheriff Leonard went to Rockford yesterday and arrested William Maston, Robert Wit and Seal Smith on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by J. P. Gleason, the bicyclist who was assaulted on West Bridge street a few nights since. They were arraigned in police court and pleaded not guilty. Their trial was set for August 23. Gleason says the boys assaulted him without any provocation.

Extra Jurors for the Circuit.

Six special jurors have been ordered drawn for the present term of the circuit court and the extra panel consists of Charles H. Phillips, seventh ward; Dennis O'Leary, eighth ward; Barney Gregory, ninth ward; George B. Wilson, tenth ward; John L. Curtis, first ward; Charles W. Davidson, second ward.

Held for Trial.

Jesse Latson, the man arrested at Belding Thursday by Deputy Marshal Brewster for passing a bogus dollar on a Belding merchant, was held for trial at the next term of the United States court by Commissioner McQueman yesterday. In default of $30 bail he was committed to jail to await trial.

Court Notes.

Justice Hugh J. Kelley filed his returns in the appeal of the case of John W. White against Frank Bunker with the county clerk yesterday.

Mable Mayo, charged with larceny from a dwelling if the day time, waived examination and was held to the superior court for trial.

Adrian Lobensky pleaded not guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct and his hearing was adjourned until August 18.

C. Bismontie was fined $10 and costs for disorderly conduct and sentence was deferred upon him for two weeks.

Thomas McQuillan had a jury trial on a charge of non-support and was acquitted in police court yesterday.

Cornelius DeYoung paid $3 fine and costs of $4.31 in court yesterday on a charge of disorderly.

ALMOST A SUCCESS.

But the Fish Got Too Near the Water and Was Drowned.

The experiments of men of science furnish much amusement to the wits, who are not particularly interested in the slow, minute and sometimes apparently insignificant investigations by means of which important physical facts are learned. It is interesting to know that if we cut off the tails of forty successive generations of mice at their birth not one mouse even in the fortieth generation will be born without a tail. But when the man of science was engaged in cutting off the baby mice's tail all the world laughed at him. The slow experiments to test the possibility that by degrees an animal may change its habit—a land animal taking to the water, and so on—was satirized in an amusing way in a Berlin newspaper.

Herr Professor Schaefkopf, the eminent biologist, has met with a serious bereavement in the course of his experiments relative to the changes of habit made by animals. Some time ago he captured a live herring. He took the fish home and kept it in a large vat of salt water.

Every morning the professor dipped out of this vat half a teaspoonful of salt water and replaced it with an equal amount of fresh. His purpose was to accustom the fish gradually to live in fresh water instead of salt.

The herring lived on, and passed his days in the best of spirits. In the course of time the water in the tank was rendered completely fresh. Not a grain of salt was left in it. And the herring remained cheerful and in good health.

Next he began to deprive the fish, little by little, of the fresh water element in which he lived. In this also he was successful, and after a time the herring gambled around in a perfectly dry tank. The professor congratulated himself that another transformation had been accomplished. He had a land herring at last.

The professor put the fish in a birdcage, and the intelligent creature uttered plaintive little cries of satisfaction and affection when the professor, in transferring him, stroked him carefully on the back. Nice little messes of food were given the fish, but the professor noticed the next day that something seemed to be the matter with his pet. He seemed to desire something very much. The professor mused.

"Really," he exclaimed presently, "I have it. I had forgotten to give the poor little fellow anything to drink!"

He brought a dish of water, put it in the cage and left the fish to drink at his leisure.

Next morning, when the professor came to look at his fish, a sad sight met his gaze. The herring had fallen head first into the dish of water and had been drowned—YOUTH'S COMPANION.

Victor Howard.

He was taking his first meal at his new boarding house and there was some evidence that he did not like it.

"Waiter," he said, "bring me some hash."

"Some what, sir?" asked the waiter politely.

"Some hash. Don't you know what hash is?"

"No, sir; we don't have it here."

"Can't I get it if I want it?" he asked dictatorially.

"No, sir. If you want hash you'll have to go somewhere else."

"Well, bring me some prunes then," he said, changing the subject.

"Haven't any prunes, sir," responded the waiter.

"No prunes?"

"No, sir; we don't have them, either?"

"No, sir; not here."

The new boarder was becoming excited.

"Tell the landlady to come here," he commanded.

The waiter brought in the landlady.

"I am informed, madam," he said, "that I can get neither hash nor prunes in this house."

"You have been correctly informed," she admitted with some trepidation, for he looked like a man who could pay.

"Am I to understand that those dishes will not be served here under any circumstances?"

"That's the invariable rule, sir."

"Very well, very well," he said; "I'll see you after this meal and pay you for a year's board in advance."—Detroit Free Press.

KNOLL AND McNEAL.

America's Representative Solo Concertists.

It is with pleasure that the public in general and music lover in particular will learn of the continued engagement of the unrivaled musicians, Knoll and McNeal, at Head's lake. During their stay here the past week they have attracted thousands to the lake every evening, who have been charmed with their performances. The high character of these musicians has been admitted by the leading musical critics of the principal cities of America, and the public of this city should yield them the tribute of large attendance upon their performances. The fact that their performances are given to the public gratuitously should induce every one to attend them who is appreciative of the education of fine music. It is not often that talent of this class visits the city. Even when a large admission fee is charged to witness their performance in the larger cities their engagements have been to paying audiences and their popularity has grown to the proportion of the first artists of America. The generous proprietors of Head's lake attractions who have brought these noted artists to the city, are deserving of the gratitude of the public. Charles Godfrey, always conspicuous in the promotion of refined entertainment, is deserving of special mention. His Lake View house, now thoroughly overhauled and refurnished, is daily growing in popularity, and is being recognized as the leading family resort at the lake. During the evening concerts it is liberally patronized.

What a Herald Representative Learned Yesterday.

In quest of information a Herald representative yesterday afternoon strolled into the carriage repository of Belknap, Baker & Co. "Gone to the races?" he bluntly inquired of Mr. Baker.

"No, can't get away this afternoon. I just closed a sale of that vehicle there, and we've got to get her crated and away tonight. No; we're busier than ever here."

Without the remark the visitor could understand that. In front a line of fine, new eastern novelties occupied the floor. Two American patterns on an Ivanhoe and the other an Ely trap were foremost. In point of finish and style they surpassed anything in fine novelties ever shown in the city. Near by a Highland surrey, graceful and elegant in appearance, challenged attention. Grouped about the center of the lower floor were several fine novelties fresh from the east, among them broughams, victorias, cabriolets, dog carts, road wagons and phaetons.

An especially fine line of gentlemen's road wagons and carriages were attracting the careful scrutiny of a group of buyers near by. "I've never seen such an array of fine vehicles in Michigan," remarked an elderly gentleman.

"Nor I," exclaimed a lady of the party, "they are too lovely for anything." A stroll through the three floors of the great repository convinced the scribe of the truth of the comment of the purchasers. Every style of vehicle of known merit which has found favor in the east was found on exhibition. Each floor contained its complement of visiting buyers and the whole place was indeed a hive of intense activity.

Mrs. Tabor's Art Exhibit.

Mrs. P. C. Tabor's art exhibit is open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m., at No. 52, Gilbert block. Besides her seven pictures copied from famous works in the Louvre and Luxembourg, Paris, her original paintings under Bouguereau, her fruit and flowers, and her sketches painted in different parts of Europe, she has a fine collection of water colors painted by noted French and Italian artists in Rome and Paris. Among these are three cardinals, two painted in the Vatican at Rome. She can sell these much below their commercial value, having obtained them at reduced rates of a dealer going out of the business. If pressed for time call and see them in the evening. Elevator runs until 9 p. m.

A Safe Investment.

A lot in Kettle Falls, Washington, will bring big returns in two years or it will make a good holding for permanent investment. Kettle Falls is at the gateway of the famous Colville reservation, about to be opened for settlement. One million eight hundred thousand acres of land rich in timber and farm lands, and with mines of iron, coal, gold, silver, copper and mica, will furnish the resources to build up Kettle Falls.

Sunday, Aug. 14, the Chicago & West Michigan railway will run a special train, an excursion from Grand Rapids to Traverse City, leaving Union Station at 7:06 a. m., arriving at Traverse City at 12:30. Returning, leave Traverse City at 7:00 p. m. Round trip rate $2.00, including a two hours boat ride on bay on the City of Grand Rapids.
